Basmati growers seek higher returns

EXPORTS TO BE HIT. Farmers seek premium as Chhattisgarh buys common paddy at ₹3,100/quintal

New Delhi

Basmati (paddy) farmers in Haryana and Punjab will be highly disappointed if they do not get a premium over non-Basmati paddy as farmers' demand for a hike in common variety of paddy price has begun to gain ground after Chhattisgarh started buying at ₹3,100/quintal. It will soon be a reality in Odisha with the change of government.

But, Basmati exporters are more concerned about overseas demand rather than domestic prices after some of them incurred losses by purchasing at higher rates and being not able to sell at a profit. "Basmati price should be at least 30 per cent more than non-Basmati and if a (State) government is buying paddy at ₹3,100/quintal, there should be a minimum price also for Basmati," said Ashok Singh, a Basmati farmer from Sonipat,

In Odisha, BJP has promised to procure paddy at ₹3,100 per quintal and transfer the payment to farmers within 48 hours through direct benefit transfer. It has also promised that procurement will be done through electronic weighing machines in all mandis, eliminating the present practice of "katni-chhatni" (deduction).

Chhattisgarh started buying paddy at ₹3,100 per quintal from January after the formation of the BJP Government.

A former president of All India Rice Exporters Association said some millers who had purchased Basmati paddy in the hope of getting higher realisation are finally selling at a loss as global Basmati prices have come down. Stressing on the need for removal of the minimum export price (MEP), he said that this will help more players to operate in the next season and allow competition, potentially ensuring good prices for farmers.

He also said due to very small carry forward stocks in 2022-23, the Basmati industry aggressively purchased at a very high prices from farmers in October-December 2023. On the other hand, the crop size was large in both India and Pakistan, he said.

SHIELD AGAINST CARTELS "Exports data for April and May looked encouraging, but ground reality is entirely different. Prices of Pusa Basmati 1509 have dropped by ₹15,000-20,000 per tonne now from harvesting period and importers are not interested to pay higher price," the exporter said and warned that millers and exporters may not be in a position to offer ₹3,000-3,100 per quintal for Pusa Basmati 1509 when next crop arrives in October.

The government stipulates registration of all Basmati rice export contract with APEDA at minimum $950 per tonne.

However, trade policy expert S Chandrasekaran differs as he said that MEP is a shield for the exporters against possible cartelisation in importing countries to lower their contract prices.

"The excess export supply by 20 per cent has created an inordinate pressure on Basmati prices. The support level of MEP has prevented price crash. Current MEP policy has saved the millers from NPA who procured the Basmati paddy at higher price from farmers," Chandrasekaran said.

EXPORTS UP IN APRIL

Trade sources said the average Basmati export price was $1,127/tonne in February which has dropped to $1,096/ tonne in May and is likely to further fall this month.

Basmati rice exports were 14 per cent up at $534 million during April against over $470 million in the same period a year ago. In volume terms also, the growth was 17 per cent at over 0.5 million tonnes (mt) compared with 0.43 mt a year ago. During 2023-24, shipments clocked 15 per cent growth to a record 5.24 mt.

the seed distributors, Ganatra said the sales of cotton seeds are slow in the State.

"As per information received from the members, due to shortage of water not much of early cotton sowing is done in Central and South India," he said. In MP, the area is likely to be lower by a tenth, while in the South, farmers are waiting for the minimum support price (MSP) to be declared, he

The CAI President also said the bearish trend in ICE Futures is influencing cotton sowing. ICE cotton futures for December 2024 are trending lower at 70 cents per pound, which works out to the Indian rupee equivalent of ₹47,000 per candy. Presently, the cotton prices in India are hovering in the ₹55,000-57,000 range for the 29 mm.

"Lower December ICE futures is not good for the upcoming cotton sowing. The lower futures is affecting cotton sowing as Indian farmers are keenly waiting and watching the ICE futures on a dayto-day basis and then taking a decision on sowing," Ganatra

Cotton was planted in 124.69 lh during the 2023-24 season, with Maharashtra topping the acreages at 42.34 lh, followed by Gujarat at 26.83 lh and Telangana at 18.18 lh.

IMD revises June rainfall forecast to 'below normal'

Our Bureau New Delhi

The India Meteorological Department (IMD) has revised the monsoon forecast for June to "below normal" from the earlier prediction of "normal" rainfall after the monsoon's progress has stalled over the past few days.

Rainfall between 92 per cent and 108 per cent of the long period average (LPA) of 166.9 mm is categorised as 'normal', whereas it is 'below normal' if precipitation for a month is less than 92 per cent of the LPA. "Normal to above normal monthly rainfall is most likely over most areas of the south peninsula and some areas of the North-East. Below normal rainfall is most likely over many areas of the North-West and the adjoining Central region and some areas of North-East India," IMD said on Tuesday night. In its forecast for June, issued in the last week of May, IMD had said the average rainfall over the country as a whole "is most likely to be normal."

ABOVE NORMAL IN SOUTH According to a previous forecast, above normal monthly rainfall was likely over most areas of the south peninsula and adjoining areas of central

India, and over isolated areas of north-west and north-east India. But "below normal" rainfall was predicted for June over many areas of northern and eastern parts of northwest India and the eastern part of Central India, and over some areas over north-east

Rainfall over the country as a whole during June 1-19 was 70.7 mm, which is 18 per cent less than its Long Period Average (LPA) of 86.7 mm. The precipitation was 1 per cent above average on Wednesday, IMD data show. So far, monsoon rainfall is deficient in all regions except south peninsula where it is 15 per cent above normal. The east and northeast meteorological subdivision comprising all NE states as well as Bihar, West Bengal and Jharkhand is deficient by 8 per cent while Central India has received 32 per cent below normal rain.

North-west India comprising Punjab, Haryana, Uttar Pradesh, Rajasthan and other States has received 10.8 mm rainfall which is 70 per cent less than normal until June 19. IMD said that the Southwest Monsoon advanced into some parts of Nicobar Islands on May 19 and simultaneously reached Kerala and some north-eastern States on May 30, two days before normal schedule for Kerala and six days ahead in the North-East. Thereafter, the northward progress of monsoon was gradual. However, monsoon has not progressed thereafter.

⁺ As prices plunge 90% in 6 months, vanilla cultivation loses flavour

V Sajeev Kumar

A 90 per cent drop in vanilla prices over the past six months has made the spice lose its flavour in the global markets.

From around 2023-end, vanilla prices have dropped from $600/kg to $60, especially when prices of other commodities witnessed a rising trend. Industry sources in the domestic market say vanilla is available at as low as $20 per kg, especially from African countries such as Uganda and Tanzania.

Vanilla, a flavouring ingredient, is predominantly an export crop and its domestic consumption is minimal. The industry mainly uses synthetic vanilla. Madagascar accounts for 80 per cent of the global production, Joseph Sebastian, a vanilla farmer in Idukki and owner of EcoSpice, a spice processing firm, attributed the reasons for the price drop to increased production globally

As farmers in North-East have traditional multi-storeyed horticulture gardens, they can easily grow vanilla without sacrificing additional land that led to abundant availability across the markets. Earlier, Madagascar was a major production centre followed by Indonesia and India, which produces a minimal quantity.

However, there is no official data on production as it is mainly confined to Kerala's Idukki region and Karnataka in the South. Indian production has been limited to about 20 tonnes. This is mainly because of the uncertainty in prices and fungal diseases Moreover, it is a labour-intensive crop which requires skilled work especially for pollination of the plants, he said. Many farmers took up vanilla farming in various countries when its prices peaked. This resulted in ample supply in the market, leading to increased inventories in producting countries. The price fluctuation is cyclical, which is seen once in 10-12 years.

DM Barman, Deputy Director, Spices Board, Regional Office, Guwahati, said a few farmers from Meghalaya and Assam had started vanilla cultivation and they are selling the beans to traders in Karnataka. This year, they sold dry vanilla beans at ₹10,000 to ₹12,000 per kg and approximately 1,000 kg dry vanilla beans were sold out from north-eastern States. As farmers of the North-East have traditional multi-storeyed horticulture gardens, they can easily grow vanilla without sacrificing additional land.

In the last three weeks, aluminium futures has slipped below key support points. The contract is now below both the 20- and 50day moving average, and early this week it dropped below a key support at ₹232. As per the chart, the nearest support for aluminium futures from the current level is at ₹225. But fall 30% due to adverse weather Mithun Dasgupta

Tea production across estates of the Dooars and Terai regions in West Bengal is likely to witness around 30-35 per cent year-on-year fall during this year so far as first and second flush yields dropped due to adverse weather conditions.

"In the Dooars and Terai region, first and second flush productions were down compared to last year as rain remained elusive till April. The region received rainfall during May-end after a long gap. And now, for the last nine days we have been witnessing continuous rain and no sunshine. Heavy rain and lack of sunlight adversely affect growth of tea bushes," said Bijoy Gopal Chakraborty, President, Confederation of Indian Small Tea Growers' Associations (CISTA).

According to the latest Tea

AVPL to train agri drone operators to work in Australia, Brazil, Spain

Subramani Ra Mancombu

AITMC Ventures Limited (AVPL) International, an integrated agri-drone company, will set up 20 World Skill and Incubation hubs and 50 Global Skill and Incubation hubs in 12 States to train agriculture drone pilots and entrepreneurs, said Preet Sandhuu co-founder and Chairman,

In the first phase, these hubs, to come up in partnership with the National Skill Council (NSDC) will be utilised to train and send them to Australia, Brazil, Latin America, and Spain over the next two years, she told businessline in an online interaction.

TIE-UP WITH IFFCO

with multi-State cooperative fertilizer firm IFFCO to collaborate on drone spraying in over 50 lakh hectares across 8 States in the country. "The drone spraying project is a direct one which could earn the company ₹200 crore. If we get ₹400 for spraying one acre, we will get that much. We will hire 7,000 pilots who will spray 10 acres a day each. In 90 days, we would have sprayed on 63 lakh acres," she said. Founded in 2016, AVPL has been training farmers for the empowerment of their families. "We are providing training on soil testing on pesticide application on agri inputs. Since 2021, we have transferred the pesticide application training into pesticide spraying by drones upgraded version of pesticide applications," said Sandhuu. Drone spraying will help farmers overcome any aftereffects of spraying pesticides, while water consumption is down to almost 15 per cent to around 16 litres per acre from 100-120 litres.

DRONE MANUFACTURING

AVPL is the largest remote pilot training organisation (RPTO) and it got clearance for drone manufacturing this year, she said. "We have the largest drone training institutes in the country," she said.

The company has about 35 drone servicing centres, which are also associated with NSDC and the Ministry of Development Entrepreneurship. On setting up the skill and incubation hubs, Sandhuu said the 20 World Skill and Incubation hubs are institutions with 50,000-plus sq ft area, while the Global Skill and Incubation hubs will have 25,000 sq ft area.

In countries such as Brazil, Australia, and Latin America, the land holdings are huge and individual farmers can buy drones for various farm activities. "We need to train pilots to export drones. AVPL will be the first company in India focusing on international placements of drone pilots along with domestic deployment in each village," the company's co-founder and chairman said.

On training, Sandhuu said the company provides RPTO training of 5 days followed by comprehensive remote pilot training. Drone pilots need Directorate-General of Civil Aviation clearance to get an RPTO license

These candidates will then take a comprehensive 3month training to become agriculture drone pilots or kisan drone operators. "You first need a drone pilot licence before you can start flying one," she said.

During the training for agriculture drones, the company provides them with on-thejob training for three months, Sandhuu said.

Candidates who successfully undergo the agri drone pilot training will get a dual certification, including the one from NSDC. The other certification will be from countries such as Australia or Brazil accreditation bodies. "If a person wants to migrate to Australia as an agri drone pilot, he/she needs dual certification, including from the Civil Aviation Safety Authority," the company co-founder and Chairman said.
